2019 International Red Dairy Breed Federation Conference Application

The American Milking Shorthorn Society is excited to accept applications for one representative to attend the 2019 International Red Dairy Breed Federation Conference in Australia. The event will be held March 22 – 29, 2019. This opportunity is being offered through the AMSS use of the USLGE program. The selected representative would receive approximately $3,000 to assist in airfare, lodging and other travel expenses. The goal of the AMSS/USLGE program travel is to make international contacts to aid in the development of AMSS global marketing of Milking Shorthorn genetics.

Items for applicant to note:

1. The AMSS representative must be passionate about the breed, clearly communicate about our breed, and is willing to learn while interacting.
2. This trip will include on farm experiences and the representative chosen should be comfortable discussing pedigrees, traits, and genetics with producers while in the field.
3. While serving as an AMSS representative on a USLGE trip, you cannot promote your personal Milking Shorthorn genetics, you must be a spokesperson for all of United States Milking Shorthorn genetics. It is a violation of USLGE policies to use USLGE funds to promote an individual farm or individual genetics.
4. Upon return, the appropriate USLGE forms and information, along with a report detailing the trip (a daily trip journal is helpful), must be completed to obtain reimbursement.
5. The USLGE funds will only cover one person's travel and expenses. Therefore, if you chose to take someone with you, their expenses cannot be reimbursed.
6. You will need a passport that will not expire until after March 2019.
